Events

Fostering Agricultural Value Chains in Eastern South Asia

CUTS International in collaboration with Rashtriya Grameen Vikas Nidhi (RGVN, Guwahati), SNV (Bhutan) and Unnayan Shamannay (Dhaka) organised a Sub-Regional Policy Dialogue on 'Fostering Agricultural Value Chains in Eastern South Asia' at Guwahati, Assam on June 25, 2016. This event was organised under the Sustainable Development Investment Portfolio (SDIP) supported by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT), Government of Australia.

The objectives of the workshop were to discuss the possibilities and hurdles associated with the trading of agriculture products within and across borders; and seek solutions to address those hurdles.

It brought together government agencies, regulators, private institutions and private players engaged in the agriculture sector to understand and deliberate on how to best harness agriculture value chains and its potential in the sub-region comprising of the North Eastern states of India and its neighbours in the Brahmaputra basin.

Variable Geometry

Perspectives on the WTO Ministerial Conference in Nairobi

Overall, the Nairobi Ministerial witnessed the continuation of the battle on various fronts of the international trading system. Given the compromise language in the Nairobi Ministerial Declaration, it will be interesting to see how negotiations will intensify or not in Geneva. This collection of articles and analysis, in a sense, reflects on these contemporary as well as long standing debates surrounding the WTO, Doha Round, and the international trading system as a whole. While work continues in Geneva, it is critical to reflect and understand where we came from and what challenges lie ahead of us. This compendium attempts to provide such a reflective source.

A Proposed Agenda for the South Asian Regional Standards Organisation: Lessons from Regional Standardisation Organisations

This Discussion Paper reviews specific examples of regional standardisation organisations from the Americas, Europe, Southeast Asia, and Africa to identify good practices. Also, considerations regarding adopting international standards or focusing on improving SAARC level standards are made. Suggestions for SARSO based on the experiences of other relevant organisations are thus provided as a potential agenda for South Asian countries to grow their economies and social wellbeing.

Sustainable Development Investment Portfolio - Advocacy Briefs

Sustainable Development Investment Portfolio (SDIP) is a portfolio investment approach which has been adopted by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Government of Australia to address the issues of water, food and energy security in South Asia.

Based on CUTS' involvement in SDIP, six Advocacy Briefs have been formulated to carry forward the discourse on food-water-energy security nexus in South Asia. They are based on grassroots insights and policy research at regional level. These Advocacy Briefs are meant to inform, educate and present the advocacy strategies of CUTS on these subjects and provoke debates on specific issues. These are as follows:

1. Promoting Efficient Use of Resources through Regulations and Knowledge Sharing on Sustainable Agricultural Practices in South Asia

Time has come for 'Move India'

The Hindu Business Line, June 29, 2016

By Pradeep S Mehta

In the monsoon session of Parliament, the Goods and Services Tax (GST) is likely to see the light of the day. That would be one of the most significant competition reforms India would adopt in recent times to create an internal market.

Bureaucracy has had it too easy

The Hindu Business Line, April 14, 2016

By Pradeep S Mehta

This seems to be a season of some good news as far as administrative reforms for economic growth is concerned. The commerce department at the nudge of the Prime Minister's Office is considering setting up a large specialised team to negotiate international trade deals. Such a team would comprise specialists drawn from the Indian Trade Service, Indian Foreign Service and trade lawyers.

Don't blame global crisis for exports slide

The Hindu Business Line, April 01, 2016

By Pradeep S Mehta

Last year on this day, the government of India had released the new Foreign Trade Policy (FTP), 2015-20. It was, by no means, a Fools' Day prank. It laid a foolproof plan to enhance India's trade ecosystem and competitiveness.
