Symposium on Agriculture Crisis and Farmer's Commission: Response from the States

Jaipur, India, June 26, 2007

Suprita Jayaram was invited by Institute of Development Studies (IDS), Jaipur that organised a one-day Symposium on Agriculture Crisis and Farmer's Commission: Response from the States, in collaboration with Oxfam International on June 26, 2007.

The Symposium was organised in the backdrop of the ailing agricultural scenario of the country, as this sector continues to be the main employer in India yet it is the most neglected. This Symposium came in as an appropriate forum to brainstorm views and ideas of the representatives from across different states in India. Moreover, the Symposium made space for 'voices from the ground' to be heard more clearly in the midst of policy makers and representatives from think tanks.

Pre-global forum on migration and development

London, UK, May 17, 2007

Pranav Kumar was invited by the Commonwealth Secretariat to present a paper entitled "Nexus Between Migration and Development: A Case Study of India" at a Pre-global Forum on migration and development held at London on May 17, 2007. The Global Forum on Migration will be organised by the International Organisation of Migration at Brussels, Belgium in July 2007.

Participants in the Pre-global Forum on Migration and Development convened by the Commonwealth Secretariat at the Headquarters of the Commonwealth, London, acknowledged the initiative of the proposed Global Migration Group and the Government of Belgium in convening a Global Forum on Migration and Development in July. The objectives of this meeting were: address existing policies, interventions, issues and challenges confronting partners and stakeholders; share good practices and partnership efforts in addressing migration and development at all levels; identify and agree on strategies to advocate for consideration and action at the Global Forum in July 2007.

IN MEDIA

Perpetual Disparities

The Dawn Review, May 17, 2007

The prime minister and other government functionaries made tall claims about having reduced poverty and Pakistan being set to achieve all the eight Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), making great strides in improving the lives of the teeming millions. The claim, however, has little to show in terms of bringing any actual improvement in the lives of the people at the grassroots level.

TRPAP Overcoming Poverty

Spotlight, May 4-10, 2007

Tourism for Rural Poverty Alleviation Programme (TRPAP) message is that tourism can be the best way to fight poverty in the countries like Nepal. The implementation of TRPAP's in August 2002 came as a boon to the local residents of the villages in Nepal. The goal of the programme is to contribute to the poverty alleviation objective of the government through review and formulation of policy and strategic planning for sustainable tourism development that are pro-poor, pro-environment and pro-rural communities and pro-women.

SEZs Turning into Land Scam

Economic Times, May 04, 2007

In a zest to secure tax holidays, developers are gradually turning Special Economic Zones (SEZs) into a land scam, leading industrialist Rahul Bajaj has said. Advocating direct interaction with the farmers, he said, if vast stretches of land have to be acquired to set up SEZs the companies must get them by paying the right value, and not the subsidised rates.

Survey with Mixed Findings

TNS, Jang, June 17, 2007

When governments have to repeatedly inform that it is bringing prosperity and development for masses then pro-public development is actually not taking place. Despite the government's claims of robust economic growth, the Economic Survey contains a lot of alarming facts.

Duty and Quota Free Market Access to LDCs – India, China must act now

The Hindu Business Line, June 13, 2007

Since the 2003 WTO Cancun Ministerial Conference, LDCs have stood up to the pressure from developed countries and lent crucial support to G-20 and G-33 in their aggressive effort to dismantle the huge farm subsidies of the West. Now, it is time for larger developing countries to repay the LDCs by granting them DFQF market access. This is economically and politically very significant.
