

Mapping of Civil Society Organisations (With Reference to SDIS Issues: Food-Water-Energy Security)

Sustainable Development Investment Strategy (SDIS) has an ultimate aim of making a positive change in the lives of poor and marginalized throughout South Asia, particularly the most vulnerable-women and girls. The positive outcomes from SDIS can smoothly reach to the lowest rungs of society with the help of Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) that have a wide and strong outreach in the grassroots. Thus, it is imperative to include relevant CSOs working in South Asia for making SDIS a very successful and effective investment programme.

- ❖ CUTS have collaborated with four CSOs (our strategic partners) in South Asia respectively from Bangladesh, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka.
- ❖ Unnayam Shamannay from Bangladesh, South Asia Watch on Trade, Economics & Environment (SAWTEE) from Nepal, Sustainable Development Policy Institute (SDPI) from Pakistan and Institute of Policy Studies of Sri Lanka (IPS) are CUTS four strategic partners that will support CUTS activities throughout SDIS.
- ❖ Other than the strategic partners, CUTS will build a network of NGOs/CSOs working on SDIS issues in all the countries where the project is being implemented. Knowledge sharing will be done with these organizations to enhance their capacity on SDIS issues as well as the project objectives.
- ❖ CUTS will be organizing workshops with them to understand their take on these issues. Some of them will be working as partner organizations while facilitating the research and organizing meetings at local level.
- ❖ Dissemination of learning will be done with these CSOs which will be shared with their partners as well thereby maximising the outreach. CUTS will also engage them to conduct assessment/evaluation of the work being done in their respective geographical area.
- ❖ Thus indirectly, they will also be striving for the achievement of portfolio objectives.

CSO mapping have been done for the following set of countries in South Asia:

1. Bangladesh
2. Bhutan
3. India
4. Maldives
5. Nepal
6. Pakistan

The civil society organisations under the selected countries are as following:
