To whom it may concern,

This is to confirm that Consumer Unity & Trust Society (CUTS), India, in 2006 was the leader of a consortium that carried out a Strategic Review of WTO Trade-Related Technical Assistance (TRTA) Activities.

The consortium also comprised the North-South institute (NSI), Canada; and Latin American School of Social Sciences (FLACSO – Facultad Latinoamericana de Ciencias Sociales), Argentina. It was commissioned by a Steering Committee consisting of WTO Members and appointed by the WTO Committee on Trade and Development.

Based on its findings, the consortium submitted a Final report on the Strategic Review, delivered to the Steering Committee on 21st July 2006, in accordance with the terms of reference of the Contract between the WTO and CUTS signed on 23 November 2005.
